Then, thanks to the support of six bodyguards, Mark and the team went into a residential wall fence with barbed wire interlaced, trees growing around so no one can access.

At the request of Mark, the owner borrowed nine buffalo for group riding .

With the familiar T-shirt, Mark rided a buffalo ledding the group .

Previously, the bodyguard of Mark clashed with some people who want to take pictures of Mark ,so the walking time was shortened. After riding buffalo ,Mark and his team walked around the streams in Ho valley.

Mark (the middle) looked at Muong Hoa valley landscapes.

Then the group went down the center of Ho valley by car & started playing blindfolded goats. There was three guards standing around this house. Mark and the team was only playing this game about 15 minutes.

Topas Ecolodge Resort lied between the steep hills surrounding the protection of confidentiality. Around 18h, the group from Ho valley cameback the resort on seven cars, including six car 7 seats, a 16-seat vehicles. Many of these cars had no passengers.
